CHANGE PROJECT

As a participant in ITP "Healthy Livestock - Safe food" you will be expected to bring an initial idea for a change project. The programme will support you in developing your idea into a project proposal and setting a strategy for its implementation. Please prepare a concept note (maximum 2 pages), outlining your initial ideas for a change project, including the following information:

- Initial Change Project Idea
- Title of your initial change project idea
- What problem(s) related to livestock health and/or safe food do you wish to address with your project? Who are the target beneficiaries of your intended changes?
- What you expect the project to accomplish within the approximate 12 months of the ITP duration.
- What challenges in developing and implementing your project do you foresee.

Relevance for your organisation

- What main benefits would you and your organisation hope to gain from the long-term engagement and participation in the ITP.
- Any critical challenges facing your organisation.
- Outline key on-going processes for improving livestock health and/or food safety in your sector (including, but not limited to, processes where your own organisation is involved).
- One of the ITP goals is to improve cooperation between organisations in the same sector or working in the same value-chain. We encourage cooperation between change projects, although they need to be two separate entities. What kind of cooperation has your organisation already established within healthy livestock and/or (sub-sectors of) safe food? With which other organisations would you like to develop or strengthen cooperation? What benefits would you expect thereof? We also encourage that your change project is a continuation of a previous ITP-change project. If your project is a cooperation with another ITP-change project submitted to this proposal, please state which project and what participant.
- Briefly describe the role that the management in your organisation will play in supporting a change process.
- Signature of the applicant's supervisor, with approval of the initial change project idea.
